FIONA SORBALA

Fiona Sorbala is a Jewish believer in Jesus who was raised in Scotland. Her mother, who grew up in the Egyptian Jewish community, came to the United Kingdom via France, where her brother had been killed while working for the French Resistance. Fiona has an early memory of her mother telling her to never forget that she is Jewish.

When she was 14 she came to know her Messiah. She was disciplined in a church that imparted to her a love and respect for the Word God. Her love for the Bible brought her to Bible college where she first got involved in evangelism to Jewish people.

In 1992, Fiona went to St. Petersburg, Russia when the former Soviet Union was just opening up to missionaries from western countries and there were amazing opportunities to evangelize and disciple the myriads of Jewish people who had not been denied the Gospel under Communism. For many years Fiona worked among Russian-speaking Jewish people and she is now fluent in Russian. It was at this time that she also met her husband Marius, a talented artist who also works closely with her in ministry today.

Fiona is a valued member of Chosen People Ministries' growing team of workers in England. Like the Apostle Paul, Fiona longs to see Jewish people find the truth that Yeshua is the Messiah of Israel. She is an experienced and articulate speaker who loves to share the wonders of the Gospel through Jewish eyes. She is available for speaking engagements, particularly on topics dealing with the Jewish festivals and their relevance today for all believers as well as the Jewish roots of the Christian faith and the lessons of the Tabernacle.
